

Count the insects' legs in two's.

How many legs does each insect have?

Which has the most? Which has the least?

If the beetle and the bee went to a party together, how many legs would there be altogether? What about the butterfly and the spider? The worm and the ladybird? The centipede and the spider?